BOOK SYNOPSIS

"To lead effective groups, occupational therapists must develop the skills of group facilitation, design group experiences using different frames of reference, and adapt group interventions to a broad range of client populations. A core text for over 19 years, this revised Third Edition of this text incorporates the AOTAs Occupational Therapy Practice Framework and provides an updated perspective on the design and use of groups in emerging practice areas. Chapter topics include client-centered groups, groups as social contexts, and a laboratory experience for students in developing cultural competence."--publisher website.
